

Rosalba Messina joined Inspirica in January, 2024 as Interim Chief Executive Officer. Rosalba is an independent management consultant specializing in executive interim leadership services with extensive experience in serving the nonprofit community, including social service and advocacy organizations. She has worked with organizations that cater to various missions such as homelessness, housing, women's health, literacy, environmental policy, and LGBTQ, women's and civil rights.

Rosalba recently served as CFO of Planned Parenthood of Greater NY and held executive and senior leadership positions at Bowery Residents' Committee (BRC) and Women In Need (WIN), both established and well-respected homeless services organizations in New York City. Messina was the National Director of Operations at the Gay and Lesbian Alliance Against Defamation (GLAAD), and the CFO/COO at the NY LGBT Community Services Center for over a decade.

Katie Bruce, Co-Chair of Inspirica's Board of Directors, expressed her delight in Rosalba's appointment as the Interim CEO, stating that she brings over 25 years of experience in nonprofit leadership, including 15 Interim CEO assignments managing large, complex-program operations. Bruce believes that Messina will be a great cultural leader for the organization.
